F A Q

Can we cater our own food and drink? Absolutely, we recommend adding the kitchen space to your reservation in this case.

Parking situation? Ample street parking is available around Rita House - we recommend 3rd and 2nd Street (check out our parking map).

Alcohol? We are not a bar, so we cannot charge for alcohol; however, you may bring alcohol for your guests.

Filming permits? You do not need a permit to shoot at Rita House; however if you'll be using the sidewalk or street parking for the shoot, then you'll need a permit from the city.

Can you book a space after hours? We're definitely open to this conversation. Please contact us with specific times, and there may be an after hours fee of $150.

How are noise levels? Most days Rita House functions as a coworking space that's very quiet and peaceful. Each space can close off to be private.

Discounts? Rita House often partners with nonprofits for events and fundraisers. Please contact us directly with your needs.

HISTORY OF

RiTA HOUSE

RITA RIGGS

RITA HOUSE WAS FOUNDED in 2017 by Tash Rahbar and Scott Strumwasser, a husband-and-wife team who are both practicing architects. The establishment is a tribute to Rita Riggs, an acclaimed Hollywood costume designer who worked closely with iconic figures like Norman Lear and Alfred Hitchcock.

Riggs once utilized this historic space as her design studio, leaving a legacy of creativity and collaboration that is deeply ingrained in the ethos of Rita House. Tash and Scott are committed to honoring her memory by fostering a nurturing and inspiring environment for creative professionals. The founders' mission is to continue the tradition of supporting and empowering creative minds within this unique and historical setting.
